

Haley Paul lives in The Woodlands with her husband and two children. Haley graduated from Texas A&M University with a Bachelor of Science in Political Science and minor in Economics. Haley had a brief stint as a World History teacher at Spring High School before deciding to attend law school at South Texas College of Law. After law school, Haley worked in downtown Houston for a large law firm doing employment law and general litigation. Following the birth of her first child, Haley decided to ditch the commute (and big firm hours) and came to work for Stibbs & Co. in Spring.

Stibbs & Co. is dedicated to community involvement and service. Knowing Haley's background in teaching and her connection to the Autism community, a partner at the firm introduced Haley to Steve Leakey and the other board members of ASD Hope, Inc. Haley quickly recognized the value that ASD Hope, Inc. and the Texas Autism Academy are bringing to the area and wanted to be a part of their vision. Haley feels privileged to serve on the ASD Hope, Inc. board and is excited to put her legal knowledge and skill toward such a worthy mission.
